

BIOS Journal Volume 42 (2018)

Editor

Andrew McCrea

Contents

Editorial	Andrew McCrea	4
Parry's Chorale Preludes and the fashioning of a national genre	Jeremy Dibble	6
Ernest Farrar (1885-1918): composer and organist	Martin Holmes	25
Organs, memorials and war	David Knight	53
From modules to music: recreating late medieval organs in the last quarter century	Kimberley Marshall	78
The aesthetic appeal of uneven work: understanding the craftsmanship of the early modern period	Dominic Gwynn	99
The last years: Charles Spackman Barker (Pt. III)	Philippe d'Anchald	111
The first applications of electricity to the organ	Philippe d'Anchald	143
Cecil Clutton (1909-91): the last of the tonal architects	Richard Hobson	161
A conjectural note ...	Richard Moore	179
Reviews		188